

LEAVING

I'm leaving
I'm leaving
And leaving's not a bad thing to do
No, leaving's not a bad thing to do
When you know it's right
You got to move on
Got to pack
Got to get your life on track

I'm leaving
And leaving is the right thing to do
Yea, yea, leaving is the right thing to do
Though it's hard
To go away far from home
In a town where I'm unknown

She said don't worry boy
Don't be afraid to live
You got a brand new life
You'll meet new friends down there
You'll find your place in D.C.
And I held her there tightly
On that hot tired August night
She said that we'd still be friends
She took her arm away
I couldn't say anything

I'm leaving
And leaving's not a bad thing to do
No, leaving's not a bad thing to do
When you know it's right
You got to move on
Got to pack
Got to get your life on track

I'm leaving
And leaving is the right thing to do
Yea, yea, leaving is the right thing to do
Though it's hard
To go away far from home
In a town where I'm unknown

And I got a great American vision
Gonna' take this city by surprise
Show what I can do
What I can do

I'm leaving
I'm running from the life I lead
And all the rest
I'm startin' new, with a little place
A different nest
I'm on the road, into life
I'm leaving all the strife

I'm leaving

Bound to see it through
