

SONG FOR THE MOMENT

There's a certain happiness in the air
It's a special feeling
I want to share
When I look up
Do you know what I see?
I see sunshine
Where it can't be seen

And I, I won't care what they put us through
We'll come out alright
You can't expect everything to be fine
When there's a long road

I was walking down a street I knew
In a city that I'd grown to love
And I knew that I'd be leaving soon
And it hit me
And I began to think

And you, you shouldn't worry about little things
You're just beginning
You've got to sit back
Take it slow
Take a deep breathe now

Well I walked down
Down that busy street
And I thought about one I'd like to meet
Don't you mess boy
You got things to do
Come the new year, you want life
To be good to you

Well, I told myself I'd be back
Back home in Philly
Life takes you to a new place
That's your home
That's where I'm going

And I, I don't care what they put us through
We'll come out alright
You can't expect everything to be fine
When there's a long road
There's a certain happiness in the air
